The Macon Family

INTRODUCTION

Even a casual reader of this volume will discover that it contains records of comparatively few of the numerous descendants of Col. Gideon Macon of Virginia. And after the first several generations, he will find that most of those recorded are of the North Carolina branch of the family.

In justification of this defect, it may be said that until the past year there was no idea of publishing the data found herein; all of which had been collected with no thought beyond that of gratifying my curiosity as to my lineage. Reared among numerous older relatives who talked much of family connections, I early became interested in everything that concerned my kinsfolk. Bible records, old letters, newspaper items, and conversations of my elders about our progenitors fascinated me, and I began making notes of my findings.

Gradually I learned to go afield for further information. During the years, besides visiting court-houses of numerous counties, I have spent considerable time in the Archives of Georgia, North Carolina, and Virginia; in the Library of Congress and that of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, D. C.; in the Georgia Historical Library in Savannah, Ga., the William and Mary College Library in Williamsburg, Va., and the Public Libraries of Atlanta, Charlotte, Raleigh, Macon, and Savannah. Many note-books were filled with the results of my research, the contents of which in my leisure moments were charted by families for ready reference.

Two years ago came retirement from a half-century of happy work in the school-room. In my new-found freedom from routine, I amused myself with an attempt to assemble into a comprehensive chart, for the benefit of the younger members of my family, the great mass of data I had collected. After much effort I found that I could not do this satisfactorily. It was then that the idea of publication originated. Having neither the time nor the means to search for the great number of missing members of the family, although their records would have added immeasurably to the interest and value of the compilation, I decided to proceed with the publication of what I had already acquired.

This volume is the result.

It would not be possible for me to name the host of people who in various ways helped in the acquisition of the genealogical material I have used. To each of them I am grateful; but to the following, whose assistance has been of an unusual character, I wish to make special acknowledgment:

Mr. John McFerran Clancy (late), Louisville, Kentucky;

Miss Louise Morton, Athens, Georgia;

the Rev. Wilbur G. McFarland (late), Brevard, North Carolina;

Mrs. G. V. Cate, Sea Island, Georgia;

Mr. W. H. M. Weaver (late), Macon, Georgia;

Mrs. James White Morton, Athens, Georgia;

Miss Emmalise Stone, Oxford, Georgia;

Mrs. Frederic Cook Morehouse (late), Milwaukee, Wisconsin;

Mrs. Robert M. Stephens, Brunswick, Georgia;

Mr. George A. Smith, Washington, D. C.;

Mrs. Mary Givens Bryan, Georgia Department of Archives and History, Atlanta, Georgia;

Mrs. Mary Jeffreys Rogers, North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, North Carolina;

Mr. Daniel Huntley Redfearn, Miami, Florida, for use of valuable material from his Alexander McDonald of New Inverness, Georgia;

Dr. Ferdinand Phinizy Calhoun, Atlanta, Georgia, who allowed generous excerpts from his The Phinizy Family in America;

Mr. James Branch Cabell, Richmond, Virginia, who graciously permitted use of records of the Christian family from his The Majors and Their Marriages; finally my niece, Mrs. Albert F. Amundsen of Seattle, Washington, to whom goes my deepest gratitude for her generous and expert work in preparing the entire manuscript for the press.

A kinsman, the late Col. Wharton J. Green, in his charming book, Recollections and Reflections, expressed gratification at finding in his research evidence of such worth-while character in our forebears. I, too, have experienced satisfaction in the contemplation of their lives; and with him, I am especially proud that "There was not a Tory in the stock in the Revolution, nor a traitor or renegade to the South in the War Between the States—None was false to himself, his blood, or his manhood."

If this book succeeds in arousing in my younger relatives an interest in their antecedents and an ambition to become their worthy successors, I shall be happy.

CHAPTER I

GIDEON MACON, THE IMMIGRANT

In the decades following the settlement at Jamestown in 1607 of the first permanent English colony in America, hundreds of immigrants flocked to Virginia, making their homes in the tide-water region of that colony. Among these was Gideon Macon, an English citizen of French parentage, who became identified with the prominent people of the New World and founded a family which has played a not unworthy part in the history of our country.

The ancestors of Gideon Macon were Huguenots, some of whom fled from France to England probably after the Massacre of St. Bartholomew. This bloody slaughter, incited by Catherine de Medici, resulted in the death of Admiral Coligny and thousands of his Protestant followers. Those fortunate enough to escape made their way to neighboring countries. Among them, it is believed, were the Macons who reached England.

The family name Macon or de Macon as it was originally, was derived from Macon, the capital city of the Department of Saone-et-Loire. Situated in the east-central part of France, this region was for many years the stronghold of the Huguenots. Here in the long ago the Macons became established, occupying large estates on the Loire River and intermarrying with the prominent families. As early as 1321 one Jousserand de Macon is reported to have been knighted for valor, one account stating that he saved the life of the king. Another of the group, Robert de Macon, is said to have been in the court of Charles VII at the time of Joan of Arc.

Inevitably as the years went by, the family increased in numbers and many of them sought homes in other parts of France. This dispersion is attested by the fact that at least seven Macon coats-of-arms have been registered from as many localities; among them Maine, Paris, Auvergne, and Anjou. As the coat-of-arms of the family of Gideon Macon* is that of Auvergne, it is not unreasonable to suppose that his more immediate ancestors were for a considerable length of time residents of that ancient province.

*In France, according to one authority, mottoes and crests were not registered, as they were not considered hereditary, but were adopted at will by each person bearing the arms. This probably explains the fact that, while all American Macons claim the same arms, some of them use the sheaf of wheat as crest and Sans Dieu Rien as motto; and others use for crest the head and outstretched wings of an eagle, each wing tipped with a small crescent, and for the motto Da Dextram Misero.

Auvergne today comprises the Arrondissement of Brioude in Haute-Loire and the Departments of Puy-de-Dome and Cantal, adjoining that of Saone-et-Loire. It was at Clermont in Puy-de-Dome that one Louis de Macon, Seigneur de Sauzet, was living in 1546 when his son Gabriel de Macon married Catherine de la Bielle, ditte de Serre. The statement has been made repeatedly that Gideon Macon was a descendant of these Macons, whose line is given in some detail in the Armorial General de la France. However, the record does not convincingly bear out the claim. Especially significant is the absence of all given names found in the American family of Macon.

The exact time of the emigration of the Macons from France to England is not known. As has been said, it was probably after 24 August 1572 when the Massacre of St. Bartholomew occurred. Equally probable it is that their departure was before 1598 when the Edict of Nantes, which secured for Huguenots the rights they had so long demanded, was issued. In any event, enough time had elapsed between their arrival in England and Gideon Macon's departure for Virginia for him to have become an English citizen, either native-born or naturalized. Moreover, it is certain that he had become a communicant of the Church of England, for at that time only subjects of the English Crown and supporters of the Established Church were permitted to go to the Virginia Colony.

Although Gideon Macon is credited with being the ancestor of all Americans of his name, he was not the only Macon to come to Virginia in the seventeenth century. As early as 1668 one Francis Macon is recorded as a witness of a will in Isle of Wight County; while the Minutes of the Council and General Court of Colonial Virginia show that in 1682 a "Nathaniel Macon of the County of Accomack was paid 200 pounds for a runaway." Various entries in the same Journal also reveal that in 1677 and for several years thereafter one "William Macon of James City had a House" (tavern) which he rented to the colonial authorities for public meetings and for entertainment of officials and messengers.* In 1684 it appears that, William Macon having died, a Mrs. Ann Macon (presumably his widow) was granted "allowance of 12,000 pounds of Tobacco for use of her House as Committee Chambers, Assembly Roome, Clk's office, the Council Chamber, etc." Nothing further is known in Virginia of this Mrs. Ann Macon; but it is possible that she was the person of that name, who in St. Botolph, Algate, London, on 7 Sep. 1699 made a will which was proved 3 Aug. 1700. In it she leaves "to Mr. Gideon Macon, now living in Virginia, and to his wife, to each of them, a ring of 20 S. apiece;" to his son Gideon she bequeaths her silver tankard; and to Ann and Martha Macon, daughters of the elder Gideon, six silver spoons and a silver porringer.

The date of the birth of Gideon Macon, the year of his arrival in Virginia, and everything concerning his early life are lost in a confusion of contradictory statements found in various sources; so that it seems impossible to determine with accuracy anything of his life prior to 1670. As evidence of this conflicting information, two examples will be given: An article published in The Huguenot about 1940 states that he was born in France in 1637, the son of Louis de Macon and his wife Catherine de Prade, and the great-grandson of Gabriel de Macon, Seigneur de Sauzet, diocese Clermont in Auvergne. After some years in England, the article continues, during which time he became a naturalized citizen and a member of the Established Church, he emigrated to Virginia in 1660. In contrast to these statements are those in a letter written by one of his descendants (b. 1815) and published in the William and Mary Quarterly (2nd Series) Vol. X. Among other information she gives the date of his arrival in Virginia as February 1642 and leaves the impression that he immediately settled in New Kent County, when in reality he first made his home there about 1680.

This diversity of information is so bewildering that one might be tempted to believe there were two Gideons—father and son.

*In the twelve-year period following the burning of the State House in James Towne in 1676 by Nathaniel Bacon's men, the colony's affairs were transacted in taverns.

However, a study of the known evidence serves to dispel this idea.

The earliest definite references to Gideon Macon are found in the Court Records of York County showing that he was an attorney-at-law in that county as early as 1671 and for a decade thereafter. In 1672 he was named sub-sheriff of that county. In 1676 he appeared as a witness in Isle of Wight County. He was an Indian interpreter and served as secretary to Sir William Berkeley, Governor of Virginia—evidently during the second administration of that official, which ended in 1677.

From the foregoing it seems probable that Gideon Macon arrived in Virginia about 1670 and that he was at that time a man in his early twenties; so the year of his birth was about 1648.

In religious affairs Gideon Macon appears to have taken an active part from the beginning of his life in the New World. Bishop Meade in his Old Churches and Families in Virginia lists him among the earliest Vestrymen of Bruton Parish, which had been created in 1674 by uniting Marston Parish of York County and Middletown Parish* of James City County. The records of Bruton Parish show that on 14 Nov. 1648 he, with William Aylett, John Page, Phillip Ludwell, et al., contributed liberally toward the building of "a Brick Church on the Middle Plantation for ye said Parish." This church, dedicated on Epiphany 1684 by the Rev. Rowland Jones, later became the foundation of the New Church completed in 1715. Repaired, remodeled, and restored throughout the years, New Church, now known as Bruton Parish Church, still stands on the Duke of Gloucester Street in Williamsburg—one of the most historic edifices in all America. On one of its pews is a brass tablet in memory of Gideon Macon, one of the first Vestrymen of Bruton Parish.

Upon his removal to New Kent County about 1680, Gideon Macon established his home on Macon's Island in the Pamunkey River, near his large plantation on the south bank of that river. Land patents by him include extensive acreage, not only in New *Middletown was so called because it was mid-way between York Town and James Town—later it became Williamsburg. It was also called Middle Plantation.

Kent, but also in Henrico and King and Queen Counties. About this time he was married to Martha Woodward of King William County. Her father was William Woodward who, having won the good will of the Pamunkey Indians, was invited by their Queen, Cocka Coeste, to take up 2,000 acres of land among them; this, he accordingly did. The identity of his wife has never been established, although she is believed by some to have been a member of the West family. One authority says she was the grand-daughter of Thomas West, Lord Delaware, Governor of Virginia. Martha Woodward bore her husband Gideon Macon eight children; after his death she married Nathaniel West, of the family to which her mother is said to have belonged, and to them one daughter was born. A third marriage to a Mr. Biggers was without issue. (See William Woodward).

The Journals of the Virginia House of Burgesses show that Gideon Macon represented New Kent County in that body for the sessions, 1693, 1696-'97, 1698, 1699, and 1700-'02, his colleague from that county for most of the time being William Bassett. Until 1699 when the State House had been burned for the fourth time and it was decided to move the capital to Williamsburg, the General Assembly had met at Jamestown. Thereafter for several years the sessions were held in "His Majesty's Royal College of William and Mary, adjoining to the City of Williamsburgh." It was from the Great Hall of the Wren Building of that College that "on the 14th day of May in the 14th yeare of the Reigne of our Sovereigne Lord, William the Third, of England, Scotland, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, Anno Domini, 1702," a message was sent by the assembled Burgesses to his Excellency, the Governor, apprising him of the recent death of their fellow-member, Gideon Macon.

In his new home in New Kent, Gideon Macon continued his activity in the Church of England. The first entry in the Vestry Book of St. Peter's Parish in that county was in "1684, Anno Regis 35th," when the Rev. Mr. Carr was Rector and Gideon Macon, Church Warden. He continued an official of the parish until his death. On 8 Dec. 1701, a Vestry meeting was held at his home; at the next meeting held 4 Mar. 1702, he was recorded as "lately decest" and Henry Childs was elected to succeed him.

The parish books contain many entries concerning him and his family, including the births of most of his children; but the omission of others and some of the unsteady dates indicate that the records were not kept from day to day.

Not the least evidence of Gideon Macon's prominence in New Kent is the fact that he was made Commander-in-Chief of the Military Forces of that county, thus acquiring the title of Colonel, which was later held by one of his sons.

He is known to have made on 10 Oct. 1700 a will, which was probated in proper form, his wife Martha being named executrix; but this document, as well as almost all legal papers of New Kent and adjoining counties, was destroyed in one of the numerous wars that have since ravaged that part of Virginia.

Gideon Macon's death occurring probably in early 1702, he was buried in the family cemetery on Macon's Island. His grave, once marked by a handsome imported marble monument which was destroyed by vandals in the Federal Army during the Peninsula Campaign of 1862, cannot now be identified.

CHAPTER 2

EARLY DESCENDANTS

Col. Gideon Macon at his death left eight children—four sons and four daughters. The Vestry Book of St. Peter's Church in New Kent, which seems to have been irregularly kept, fails to record the births of the three younger daughters; but, fortunately, there is proof of their having been members of the family.

The inscription on the tomb in Bruton Parish Church of Orlando Jones, who married Martha Macon, states that she was a daughter of Gideon Macon of New Kent. That there were two other daughters, whose names are unknown, is shown in the record found in the Executive Journals, Council of Colonial Virginia, Vol. II, p. 296, under date of 24 June 1703. In it reference is made to the will of Gideon Macon, executed 10 Oct. 1700, in which he left "two hundred pounds to each of four daughters."

From these children have sprung hundreds of Macon descendants living in our country today, comparatively few of whom are found in this compilation.

Children of Col. Gideon Macon and his wife Martha Woodward:

- i. GIDEON MACON, JR., b. New Kent County, Va., 20 June, 1682, as recorded in the St. Peter's Parish Register. He is generally but erroneously regarded as the Gideon Macon who ca. 1740 settled in Granville County, N. C. If so, he would have been about sixty years old at the time of his marriage to Priscilla Jones, and seventy-nine years old at the birth of his youngest son. Furthermore, a man of that advanced age would hardly have been appointed by the Colonial Legislature to the arduous work of surveying a line between two large parishes. (State Records of N. C., Vol. XXIII, p. 587.) As will be shown later, the full name of the settler in Granville County, N. C., was Gideon Hunt Macon, although he neglected to use the second part in his signature. (See 11.)

Gideon Macon Jr. of New Kent County, as the oldest son, by the custom of Virginia land-owners of that period who observed the law of primogeniture, should have inherited the estate of his father on the Pamunkey River. As will be seen, this inheritance went to the oldest of his three younger brothers, William Macon, who is frequently referred to as the "eldest son."

The last record of Gideon Macon Jr. that has been found is that of a conveyance to Thomas Mimms of "74 A. of land in Chickahominy Swamp, part of a tract granted to my father in 1698," dated 28 Apr. 1704. (Henrico Co. Book of Deeds, 1700-1704, p. 405). In view of the evidence, it seems not unreasonable to believe that this Gideon Macon Jr. died unmarried in his young manhood.

1. ii. ANNE MACON, b. 15 Dec. 1685.
2. iii. MARTHA MACON, b. 1687.
- iv. A daughter, name unknown, b. ca. 1690.
3. v. WILLIAM MACON, b. 12 Nov. 1693.
4. vi. JOHN MACON, b. 17 Dec. 1695.
- vii. A daughter, name unknown, b. ca. 1698.
5. viii. JAMES MACON, b. 28 Oct. 1701.

1. ANNE MACON-2 (Gideon Macon-1) born 15 Dec. 1685, was living in 1728. She married JAMES CHRISTIAN of Charles City County, Va. (b. ca. 1680) whose will was recorded in Feb. 1750, at which time his wife was dead. Children of Anne Macon and her husband James Christian:

6. i. RICHARD CHRISTIAN, b. ca. 1700.
- ii. JAMES CHRISTIAN JR. lived in New Kent County, Va.; 1 son, probably other issue.
- iii. JUDITH CHRISTIAN, b. 1711; m. JAMES LADD of Charles City County, Va.; 7 children.

iv. WILLIAM CHRISTIAN, d. Charles City County, Va., 1771; m. 1st a MISS COLLIER; issue; 2nd SUSAN BROWNE; issue.

v. JOEL CHRISTIAN, living in 1772; dead in 1786.

Children:

1. Sarah Christian.
2. Elizabeth Christian.

vi. GIDEON CHRISTIAN, b. 1728; d. 1796; m. SUSAN BROWNE.

Children:

1. Eaton Christian.
2. Frances Christian.
4. Patrick Christian.
4. William Allen Christian, m. Lucy _____
5. Anne Christian, m. Isaac Hill.
6. Alice Christian, m. Samuel Tower.
7. Susannah Christian, m. John Timberlake.

2. MARTHA MACON-2 (Gideon Macon-1) was born in 1687 and died 4 May 1716. She was buried in the Macon burial ground on Macon's Island, but her remains were removed in 1906 to Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg, Va.; there they were re-interred just outside the chancel under the original tombstone beside that of her husband. She was married 31 Jan. 1701 to ORLANDO JONES (b. 31 Dec. 1681; d. 12 June 1719), son of the Rev. Rowland Jones, first rector of Bruton Parish; and Burgess for King William County in 1718. His second wife was Mary Williams, daughter of James Williams of King and Queen County, who survived him.

Children of Martha Macon and her husband Orlando Jones:

- i. LANE JONES, b. 15 June 1707; d. ca. 1750; m. 1727 ANNE BARBER.

Children:

1. Martha Jones, b. 1728; m. William Johnson of Louisa County, Va.
2. Anne Jones, b. 1729; m. John Hudson of Albemarle County, Va.
3. Lane Jones Jr., b. 1733; d. 1734.
4. Orlando Jones, b. 1735.
5. Rowland Jones, b. 19 Apr. 1738.
6. Frances Barber Jones, b. 1740.
7. William Jones, b. 1746; lived in Hanover County, Va.

7. ii. FRANCES JONES, b. 6 Aug. 1710.

3. COL. WILLIAM MACON-2 (Gideon Macon-1) was born in New Kent County, Va. 12 Nov. 1693 and died 1 Nov. 1773. He married 24 Sep. 1719, MARY HARTWELL (b. 18 June 1703; d. 19 Nov. 1770), daughter of William Hartwell and his wife Ann.

William Macon lived on the Gideon Macon estate in the home on Macon's Island in the Pamunkey River until about 1725, when he built on the mainland the family mansion Mount Prospect. Here his descendants continued to live until the early years of the present century. He is frequently referred to as the "eldest son of Col. Gideon Macon." His inheritance was indeed that of the eldest son, probably because of the early death of his brother Gideon Macon, Jr. born in 1682, of whom almost nothing is known. (See 1.)

William Macon was a prominent figure in New Kent County, serving in the House of Burgesses, 1735 to 1740; and as vestryman in St. Peter's Church where his birth is recorded. He was also active in military affairs, and was made Colonel of the New Kent Militia. He and his wife are the progenitors of most of the Macon descendants found in Virginia, many of whom have achieved prominence.

Children of Col. William Macon and his wife Mary Hartwell:

- i. ANNE MACON, b. 21 Oct. 1720; d. 9 Nov. 1736.
- ii. MARTHA MACON, b. 12 Aug. 1722; d. 8 Aug. 1759; m. 1st 1740, WILLIAM MASSIE, Burgess from New Kent Co. 1748-'49; m. 2nd, 1759, COL. RICHARD BLAND of Prince George Co.
Child (among others):
 1. Thomas Massie, b. 1747; d. 1834; m. daughter of Bowler Cocke, Jr. of Turkey Island; lived at Level Green, Amherst Co., Va. He was a Major in the American Revolution, crossed the Delaware with Gen. Washington, and was with him at Yorktown.
- iii. MARY MACON, b. 9 Mar. 1723; d. 28 Jan. 1733.
8. iv. WILLIAM MACON, b. Jan. 1725.
9. v. HENRY MACON, b. 13 Sep. 1727.
- vi. ELIZABETH MACON, b. 15 Feb. 1729; d. 25 Apr. 1763; m. 1 Dec. 1747, WARNER WASHINGTON (b. 22 Sep. 1722; d. 23 Jan. 1790) of Fairfield, 1st cousin of George Washington and son of John Washington. His 2nd wife was Hannah Fairfax.
Children:
 1. & 2. Twins, b. & d. 1 Aug. 1748.
 3. John Washington, b. 5 Aug. 1749; d. 1 Nov. 1758.
 4. Warner Washington, Jr., b. 5 Apr. 1751; m. 1st Mary Whitney; m. 2nd, Sarah Rootes.
10. vii. SARAH MACON, b. 21 Feb. 1731.
- viii. MARY MACON, (2nd of name) b. 17 Apr. 1735.
- ix. JUDY MACON, b. 12 Aug. 1737; d. 1 Feb. 1768.
- x. HARTWELL MACON, b. 30 June 1741; possibly the Hartwell Macon of Cumberland Co., Va., in Census of 1784.

xi. ANNE MACON (2nd of name), b. 31 July 1747.

4. JOHN MACON-2 (Gideon Macon-1), born 17 Dec. 1695, married ANN HUNT, who died 15 Feb. 1724/5. Both of these dates are recorded in St. Peter's Church Register. As John Macon's father died in early 1702, his step-father, Nathaniel West, became his guardian. The names of the two occur frequently for several years in the Vestry Book of St. Paul's, New Kent; later, Parish of Hanover. At Colonial Council held July 11, 1742, John Macon was appointed Sheriff of Caroline County, Va. It is most probable that he married again after the early death of his wife, but of that we have no record.

Ann Hunt, wife of John Macon (See William Hunt) was the daughter of Capt. William Hunt of the Virginia Militia of 1698, who lived at Kennon's Warehouse, on the James River, Charles City County, Va.; he also was Justice of the Quorum of that county in 1699. The name, Ann Hunt, is found in almost every generation of her branch of the Macon family down to the present time.

Children of John Macon and his wife Ann Hunt (perhaps others) :

- i. JOHN MACON JR., b. ca. 1717, is believed to have come to North Carolina about the time his brother, Gideon Hunt Macon, came. He served as witness February 1738/9, in three legal papers recorded in Edgecombe County, a part of which later became Granville and is today Warren. It is said that he obtained several patents of land in that part of North Carolina; one of these for 200 acres was granted to him 20 Apr. 1745. (Register of Deeds, Warren County, N. C., Book 4, p. 195). It is possible that he was the father of Samuel Macon of Granville County, named in the Census of 1790; and of the John Macon who in 1786 married in that county Mary Bowden and is believed to have made his home in Randolph County.

11. ii. GIDEON HUNT MACON, b. ca. 1720.

iii. HENRY MACON, b. ca. 1723, is believed by some genealogists to be the Henry Macon who d. in Cumberland County, Va. 20 Sep. 1785, having m. 1st REBECCA MAYO, and 2nd MRS. FRANCES NETHERLAND CARLYLE. However, other authorities claim that this Henry Macon was the son, b. 13 Sep. 1727, of William Macon and his wife Mary Hartwell (See 3). Under the name of the last named Henry (See 9) will be found the record of descendants.

5. JAMES MACON-2 (Gideon Macon-1) born 28 Oct. 1701 in New Kent County, Va. as recorded in Parish Records of St. Peter's Church, died between 22 July and 15 Dec. 1768. He married about 1740 MRS. ELIZABETH MOORE LLOYD whose first husband, Lynn Lloyd, Gent, was alive in 1737. Her father, Col. Augustine Moore, stated in his will dated 20 Jan. 1742 that his "daughter Elizabeth had married as her second husband Col. James Macon and had a daughter Elizabeth Macon." Col. Moore, a lineal descendant of Sir Thomas More, the ill-fated Chancellor of Henry VIII, lived with his family at Chelsea on the Mattaponi in King William County. His wife was Mrs. Elizabeth Todd Seaton, daughter of Thomas Todd of Gloucester County. The Executive Journals, Council of Colonial Virginia show that James Macon was made Commissioner of Peace, King George County, 10 June 1741; Commissioner of Peace, King William County, 17 June 1744; and Sheriff of King William County 11 June 1746. The will of his wife was dated 10 Sep. 1797.

Children of James Macon and his wife Mrs. Elizabeth Moore Lloyd:

 ix. WILLIAM JERDONE, b. 1769; d. 1772.
11. GIDEON HUNT MACON-3 (4 John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) born in New Kent County, Va. about 1720, died in Granville, now Warren County, N. C. between 20 Dec. 1761 when he made his will, and Feb. 1762 when it was probated. He married about 1744 PRISCILLA JONES, daughter of Edward Jones and his wife Abigail Shugan. Gideon Hunt Macon emigrated to North Carolina about 1740 and "took up" land on Shocco Creek in what was then Edgecombe, later Granville, still later Bute, now Warren County. His home, Macon Manor, built near the new court house, was the first house in the new country to boast the advantage of glass windows. He became a prosperous tobacco farmer and was a person of importance in the community. On 6 July 1756 he was made a Justice of the Peace (Quorum) of Granville County. For years he was vestryman of St. John's Parish and the last year of his life was appointed by the Colonial Legislature to survey the dividing line between St. John's and Granville Parishes. After his death, his widow on 9 Feb. 1763 married James Ransom, to whom she bore six children—half-brothers and sisters to her eight Macon children. (See Edward Jones.)

It is unfortunate that Gideon Hunt Macon chose to drop the second part of his name in his signature. Its omission has caused him to be identified with his father's oldest brother, Gideon Macon Jr. who was born in 1682; whereas the presence of the name Hunt would have associated him instantly with John Macon whose wife was Ann Hunt, for whom his oldest child was named. That he was named Gideon Hunt Macon is verified by the statement of a great-grandson, Ben Lee Seawell, grandson of Martha Macon Seawell, and author of the Seawell Genealogy. In this book he says: "Martha Macon was the third daughter of Gideon Hunt Macon and Priscilla Jones and a sister of Senator Nathaniel Macon. Her father was a descendant of Gideon Macon, the Huguenot." It is noteworthy that he does not say son of Gideon Macon, but descendant.

Further evidence is found in a series of "Historical and Genealogical Sketches" published in the Warrenton, N. C. paper during July, 1909, where this statement is made: "Priscilla Jones married Gideon H. Macon - - - - - Their son Nathaniel was born 17 Dec. 1758." And in Tyler's Quarterly, Vol. 13, appeared an article entitled Field Jefferson's Second Wife. This wife was "Mary Hunt, whose sister Ann Hunt married John Macon, son of Gideon the First, and the son of this union was Gideon Hunt Macon, who moved to North Carolina, married Priscilla Jones, and left a distinguished progeny."

The most conclusive evidence is that offered by the Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, the intimate and trusted friend who was named by the Hon. Nathaniel Macon as sole executor of his will. In a Memorial Oration on Nathaniel Macon he says, "Nathaniel Macon's great-grandfather was a Huguenot. His father, Gideon Hunt Macon, was born in Virginia, whence came to North Carolina. His mother was a native of North Carolina and daughter of Edward Jones of Shocco."

The will of Gideon Hunt Macon, a copy of which is found below, was made 20 Dec. 1761 and is on file in the court-house of Granville County, N. C.

Will of Gideon (Hunt) Macon

In the name of God, Amen. I, Gideon Macon, of county of Granville, and province of North Carolina, being sick and weak, but of a sound and disposing mind and memory, thanks be to the Almighty God for the same. Calling to mind the uncertain time of certain death, Do make this my last Will and Testament, in manner and form, following: That is to say, First, I bequeath my soul to God who gave it, trusting in the Advocacy and Mediatorship of my ever blessed Lord and Saviour Christ for remission of all my past offenses, and my body I commit to the earth, to be decently interred at the direction of my Exo's, herein-after mentioned. And as to such worldly estate which it hath pleased Almighty God to bestow on me, I give and dispose thereof as follows, to wit:

1. Imprimis: I give and bequeath to my Son, Harrison Macon, four hundred acres of land, lying and being on the North side of Tarr River, to him and his heirs forever.

2. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, John Macon, all that part of my tract of land lying and being on both sides of Shocko Creek, below the Court House road, to him and his heirs forever.

3. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, Nathaniel Macon, all the remainder part of said tract of land, lying and being on both sides of Shocko Creek and above the Court House road. I likewise give to my said Son five hundred acres of land, lying and being on both sides of Hobquarter Creek. I likewise give to my said Son my blacksmith's tools at the decease of my loving wife, Priscilla Macon, to him and his heirs forever.

4. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, Gideon Macon, all my land and plantation whereon I now dwell, to him and his heirs forever.

5. Item: My Will and desire is, that in case either of my above-mentioned sons, Harrison, John, Nathaniel, or Gideon, should die without issue, lawfully begotten of their bodies, that then my desire is that the afore-mentioned tract or tracts of land shall be equally divided between my said sons that shall be then living.

6. Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Anne Allstone, the four Negroes that she already has in her possession, to wit: Will, Randle, Joe, Amy, and Frederick that now sucks Aggey, to her and her heirs forever.

7. Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Sallie Macon, the following Negroes, to wit: Will, Ben and Dinah, to her and her heirs forever.

8. Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Martha Macon, the three following Negroes, to wit: Jacob, Jemmy, and Tabb, to her and her heirs forever.

9. Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Mary Macon, three Negroes to wit: Harry, Roben, and Darcus, to her and her heirs forever.

10. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, Harrison Macon, two Negro boys, to wit: Stephen and Terry, and one Negro wench named Cate, to him and his heirs forever.

11. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, John Macon, two Negro boys named Peter and Gloster, and one Negro girl named Lydea, to him and his heirs forever.

12. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, Nathaniel Macon, two Negro boys named George and Bobb, and one Negro girl named Lucy, to him and his heirs forever.

13. Item: I give and bequeath to my Son, Gideon Macon, two Negro boys named Sam and Toney, and one Negro girl named Phebe, to him and his heirs forever.

14. Item: I give and bequeath to my loving wife, Priscilla Macon, during her natural life, the use of my Mannor plantation, with the following Negroes, to wit: Tom, Mingo, Bill, Henney, Patt, and Aggey, and after her decease, the sd. Negroes to be equally divided in quantity and quality between my seven youngest children.

15. Item: My Will and desire is that each of my seven children, as fast as they shall arrive at lawful age, that then they receive the one-eighth part of all my stock and household furniture, of what nature or kind soever.

16. Item: My Will and desire is that my loving wife shall have and receive the profits of each of my said children's Legacies, until they arrive at lawful age, to receive them towards the support and maintenance of my said children.

17. Item: I constitute and appoint my loving Wife, Priscilla Macon, Executrix, and my Son-in-Law, John Allston, with my friend William Johnson, Exor., this my last will and testament.

In Witness whereof, I have here-unto set my hand and seal, this twentieth day of December, One thousand, Seven hundred and Sixty-one.

GIDEON MACON (Seal)

22. ANN HUNT MACON-4 (11 Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1), was born about 1745 at Macon Manor, Granville County, N. C., and died in Apr. 1798. She married first 17 Mar. 1760, the consent of her father being required, JOHN ALSTON (d. 1784), son of Joseph John Alston and his wife Elizabeth Chancy. John Alston lived and died at his plantation home on Fishing Creek, Halifax County, N. C. Ann Hunt Macon married 7 June 1790 as her second husband WILLIAM GREEN (1739-1799), whose first wife, Mary Christmas, had borne him eleven children (See Edward Green). They lived at Bridal Creek, Warren County, N. C.

Children of Ann Hunt Macon and her first husband John Alston:

She married first JOHN HAWKINS, oldest son of Philemon Hawkins and his wife Delia Martin; and brother of Col. Benjamin Hawkins, United States Senator and celebrated Superintendent of Indian Affairs, for whom Fort Hawkins, and Hawkinsville, Ga., were named. John Hawkins' will, made 3 Jan. 1803, was recorded in Nov. 1805. After his death, his widow Sarah Macon Hawkins married James Alston (1754-1805), son of Solomon Alston and his wife Ann (Nancy) Hinton of Warren County. James Alston's first wife, Sarah Kearney, daughter of Edmond Kearney and his wife Sarah Brothers, had borne him ten children.

Children of Sarah (Sallie) Macon and her first husband
John Hawkins:

- i. PHILEMON HAWKINS of Louisburg, N. C., served repeatedly in House of Commons and Senate of N. C.
38. ii. GEN. JOHN H. HAWKINS.
- iii. GEN. MICAHAH THOMAS HAWKINS, b. 1786; d. 22 Dec. 1858. He m. 1st, 20 Sep. 1810, MRS. Among offices held by him were: House of Commons 1819; Senat of N. C., 1813 to 1827 and again in 1846; U. S. Congress, 1831 to 1841; Major-General of State Militia. It is probable that he had children, but they are unknown.
- iv. JOSEPH H. HAWKINS, Warren County, N. C., served in the House of Commons.
- v. BENJAMIN HAWKINS.
- vi. FANNIE HAWKINS, m. SOLOMON GREEN (b. 1765), son of Capt. William Green and his wife Mary Christmas. (See Edward Green, 2-iii.) He represented Warren County in the House of Commons (1786 and 1791) and in the Senate, 1797.
Children (perhaps others):
 1. Maj. Nathaniel Green m. 1st Katherine Somerville who bore him 3 sons, 2 of whom were killed in the C. S. A.; the 3rd, Dr. Solomon Green, practiced medicine in Memphis until his death in 1874; a daughter, Kate Green, m. John Brehon Somerville and lived in Warrenton, dying in 1903. Maj. Nat Green's 2nd wife was Lucy Alston (d. 1879), dau. of Joseph John Alston and his wife Margaret B. Thomas. Two daughters.

2. Gen. Thomas Jefferson Green, b. ca. 1806; m. 1st 1830 Sarah A. Wharton of Nashville, Tenn., dau. of U. S. Senator Jesse Wharton; m. 2nd 1846 Adeline, widow of John S. Ellery of Boston. A soldier of fortune, Gen. Green was a hero in the War for Texas Independence and Brig. Gen. in command of the Meir Expedition into Mexico, about which he wrote a 500-page account, published by Harper's in 1845. He served in state legislatures of N. C. and Fla.; in the Senate of Calif., and in Congress from Texas, where he introduced bill for making the Rio Grande the boundary line between Texas and Mexico. He was made a Maj. Gen. of Militia in Calif. and introduced in legislature of that state, bill for establishing State University. He died in 1863 at Esmeralda, near Warrenton, N. C., the home of his son.

This son, Wharton Jackson Green (b. 1831) was a Lieut-Col. in C. S. A. and for two terms member of Congress from N. C. Twice married, he left 3 children; d. on his estate, Tokay Vineyard, near Fayetteville, N. C.

2. William Green, whose will was proved in Warrenton, N. C., in 1824. His deceased wife was the dau. of James S. Clark and his wife Ann, and he left 2 small daughters and a little son. He appears to have had considerable property found in five states.

vii. ANN HUNT FULLER HAWKINS m. CHARLES MARSHALL.

viii. PRISCILLA MACON HAWKINS m. a MR. COTTEN.

ix. PARTHENIA HAWKINS m. 1799 (1st wife) JOHN C. GREEN (b. 1777), son of Capt. William Green and his 1st wife Mary Christmas; Colonel in War of 1812.

- x. DELIA MARTIN HAWKINS m. 12 Apr. 1801 (2nd wife) JOHN C. GREEN, who had formerly m. her sister Parthenia.

24. CAPT. HARRISON MACON-4 (11 Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born about 1751 at Macon Manor, Granville County, N. C., and died in Franklin County, N. C., about 1790. He was married to HANNAH GLENN about 1772. He served in the N. C. Militia, Revolutionary War, the records showing that he was wounded 10 Aug. 1780 at battle of Camden, later suffering a long imprisonment by the British in Charleston, S. C. The State Records of N. C. quote a letter from the Hon. Thomas Persons to Governor Thomas Burke dated, "Nutbrush, 26 July 1781" stating that he "had granted leave to Capt. Harrison Macon to ship tobacco to defray debt contracted whilst he was a prisoner at Charles Towne." Vol. 15 of the State Records, p. 235, shows that he was a Captain in the Regiment of Col. Benjamin Seawell. Capt. Macon served in the House of Commons in 1783.

Children of Capt. Harrison Macon and Hannah Glenn:

- i. SALLIE GLENN MACON, b. 8 Apr. 1773.
- ii. GIDEON MACON, b. 3 Sep. 1774 in Franklin County, N.C. By some he is erroneously believed to be the Gideon Macon who settled in Randolph County, N. C., married twice and had a large family, dying ca. 1830. This seems to be completely disproved by the N. C. Census of 1790, which shows Gideon Macon of Randolph as head of a family in which there were two females, presumably a wife and a daughter. At this time, Gideon, the son of Harrison, was barely sixteen years old. Further evidence appears in the same Census from Franklin County which shows Hannah Macon, a widow and head of a family of several children, the oldest of whom was a boy "16 years or older"—a description which could apply only to her son Gideon Macon.
- iii. PRISCILLA JONES MACON, b. 28 Jan. 1776.

40. iv. NATHANIEL MACON, b. 2 Apr. 1778.
v. POLLY MACON, b. 31 May 1779.
vi. PATSY MACON, b. 30 Apr. 1782.
vii. DRUSILLA SUGARS MACON, b. 4 Apr. 1784.
viii. NANCY HUNT MACON, b. 15 Nov. 1785.
ix. JOHN MACON, b. 26 July 1789.
25. MAJ. JOHN MACON-4 (11 Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born 10 Mar. 1755 at Macon Manor, Granville County, N. C., and died in Warren County 9 Feb. 1828. He was married three times; first, about 1776 to JOANNA TABB who bore him seven children; second, to BETSY WILLIAMS (1761-1804), who had for him three children; and third, to a MRS. JOYCE, by whom he had no children. In Dec. 1776 John Macon was commissioned Captain, 7th N. C. Continental Regiment and had active service in Charleston, S. C. Later he served under Gen. Washington in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and was present at Brandywine, Germantown, and Valley Forge. In 1780 he became Captain of a Warren County Company in a Regiment from Halifax County under Col. Benjamin Seawell, participating in the Battle of Camden Aug. 10, 1780. In this battle his brother, Capt. Harrison Macon, was wounded and captured, suffering a long imprisonment. In Jan. 1787 Capt. John Macon became Major in a Halifax District Regiment under Col. William Richardson Davie.

Maj. Macon was active in fields other than military. He was a member of the House of Commons from 1780 to 1785; and of the Senate from 1786 to 1796. He was on the first Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina, serving from 1789 to 1792. As a member of the State Convention of 1788, he voted for the rejection of the Constitution. He was appointed on Commission for building the Capitol in Raleigh, where he purchased two one-acre lots in the heart of the city. In Masonic circles he was very prominent, holding several offices in the Grand Lodge. His last public service was that of Public Registrar of Warren County in 1806.

26. HON. NATHANIEL MACON-4 (11 Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born at Macon Manor, Granville County, N. C., 17 Dec. 1758 and died at his home Buck Spring, Warren County, 29 June 1837. He married 9 Oct. 1783 HANNAH PLUMMER (b. 25 Aug. 1760; d. 11 Jan. 1790), daughter of William Plummer and Betsy Kemp, of Warren County. The most distinguished member of the Macon family, he was, according to the late Hon. Josephus Daniels, "the North Carolinian whose name leads all the rest." His achievements recorded in history and biography will be summed up briefly.

Leaving Princeton College to join the American Army of the Revolution, he served four years, coming home at intervals to serve in the North Carolina Assembly to which he had been elected without his knowledge. One of his biographers says, "It is a remarkable fact that he never sought office, but never declined a call to duty." As a result he served in the Senate of North Carolina five years; in the U. S. House of Representatives twenty-four years, six years of which he was Speaker; in the U. S. Senate thirteen years, three years of which he was President, Pro Tem. Altogether his service in the national capital spanned the administrations of our first seven Presidents. When he reached the age of seventy, in a note to the Legislature of North Carolina, he resigned his offices as United States Senator, as Trustee of the University of North Carolina, and as Justice of the Peace in Warren County. Retiring to his plantation at Buck Spring, he lived there the remainder of his life, returning to public duty only once—to preside over the Constitutional Convention of 1835. His close friend, Thomas Jefferson, pronounced him, "The strictest of our models of true Republicans upon whose tomb will be written, 'Ultimus Romanorum.' "

Children of the Hon. Nathaniel Macon and his wife Hannah Plummer:

- 42. i. BETSY KEMP MACON, b. 12 Sep. 1784.
 - ii. PLUMMER MACON, b. 14 Apr. 1786; d. 26 July 1792.
 - 43. iii. SEIGNORA DONALD MACON, b. 15 Nov. 1787.
27. GIDEON HUNT MACON, JR.-4 (11. Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born about 1761 at Macon Manor, Granville County, N. C., and died on the same plantation, then in Warren County, 27 Mar. 1809. He married first, 1 July 1779, MARY GREEN (b. 8 June 1763; d. ca. 1790), daughter of Capt. William Green and his first wife Mary Christmas (See Edward Green); he married as his second wife, about 1791, MARY HARTWELL, who survived him. Bereft in infancy of his father, Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., was reared by his mother and step-father, James Ransom. His first years of schooling were under the direction of Charles Pettigrew, who was employed to teach the Macon and the Philemon Hawkins children from 1766 to 1773. This Mr. Pettigrew afterward became a clergyman and was elected Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of North Carolina; he was the ancestor of the Confederate States general of that name.

Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., inherited Macon Manor, the plantation on which his father had lived. During the Revolution, in which all three of his brothers fought, he was a Forage-Master of Militia from 1778 to 1782. On 3 June 1784, he was named Tax Collector of Warren County.

The will of Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., a copy of which is found below, was made 1 Jan. 1808 and is now on file in the N. C. Department of Archives, Raleigh, N. C.

Will of Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Gideon H. Macon of Warren County and state of North Carolina, being of sound mind and memory, calling to mind the uncertainty of life, do this first day of January, One thousand, Eight hundred, and Eight, make and ordain this to be and contain my last will and testament, utterly revoking all others by me made, either oral or written.

Imprimis: I lend to my beloved wife, Mary Hartwell Macon, during her widow-hood, the use of my plantation whereon I now live, with the privilege of clearing land and cutting timber, firewood, and repairs, under the direction of my Executors herein-after named, as they may think best and to the greatest advantage and benefit of the family and for the purpose of supporting herself, and raising, supporting and educating her Children. I also lend to my wife for and during the term of her natural life, the following Negroes: Tom, Dick, Moses, Marlow, great Will, Phoebe, Prudence, Amey and Nell, also all my household and kitchen furniture, plantation utensils, carriage and harness, cart and oxen, Horses, stock of all kinds, and provisions on hand not hereinafter given away.

Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Ann Hunt Macon, the following Negroes: George, Aggy, Hannah, and Lucinda, also one bay mare called Bridget, and one bed and furniture, to her, her heirs and assigns forever. But in case she should die before she marries, I give and bequeath the whole of this legacy except the Negroes, Hannah and Lucinda, to my son William Macon, to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my daughter, Priscilla Mary Moss, the following Negroes, little Will, Kate, Mary, Marina and Westley, all now in her possession, also one Colt called Necromancer, to her and her heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my son, William Macon, all my land in Greene County in the State of Georgia, it being one half of a tract containing fourteen hundred and fifty acres given me by his grandfather, William Green, deceased; also the following Negroes: Gloster and Milly, also one bed and furniture, one Mare called Stella and my silver table spoons. I also give my said son William a Negro fellow named Stephen in lieu and in full satisfaction of a legacy of three hundred dollars, left him by his grandfather, William Green decd. to him and his heirs forever. But in case he should die before he arrives to lawful age or marriage, I give all the property herein left him, my son William, except the land to my daughter Ann Hunt Macon. The land I give to my daughter Ann Hunt Macon and Priscilla Mary Moss, and my grandson, Edwin Hunt Macon to be equally divided amongst them, their heirs and assigns forever. But in case my said grandson, Edwin Hunt Macon should die before he arrives to lawful age or marries, then and in that case the whole to be divided between my said two daughters.

Item: I give and bequeath to my three sons, Albert Gallatin Macon, Henry Macon, and Arthur Macon, all the land whereon I now live to be equally divided amongst them as they arrive to lawful age or marry, which division to be made by my Executors, (if they be living at the time) to them, their heirs and assigns forever. But in case either of them die before he arrives to law-age or marries, it is to be equally divided among the other two, and if two die before the time aforesaid, the survivor to inherit the whole. But in case all die before they arrive to lawful age or marry, then and in that case it is my will and desire that it be equally divided amongst the whole of my children and their representatives, including my grandson, Edwin Hunt Macon.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my Children, Lucy Kennon Macon, Martha Macon, Harriet H. Macon, Albert Gallatin Macon, Elizabeth Macon, Henry Macon, and Arthur Macon the following Negroes: Ted, Samson, Patrick, Ephraim, Bob, Philip, Maria, Betty, Caroline, Rachel, Huldah, Sarah, Jenny and Isabell, to be equally divided amongst them as they arrive to lawful age or marry. But in case any of them should die before such event takes place, the survivor or survivors to inherit the whole of the legacy, to them and their heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to each of my last-named seven children one equal share of all the household furniture, kitchen furniture and plantation utensils, but to my wife to be divided between them and her as they arrive to lawful age or marry.

Item: It is my will and desire that the Negroes and other property lent to my wife and not herein before disposed of, to be after her death equally divided amongst the whole of my children and their representatives.

Item: It is further my will and desire that the whole of my property except that part left to my daughters, Ann H. Macon and Priscilla M. Moss, be kept together by my Executors until my debts are paid which I hope can be done in two years.

Lastly: I do hereby constitute and appoint my friends, Seymore Ransom, John C. Green, and James Moss, my Executors to this my last Will and Testament. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal, this 1st day of January 1808.

Codicil

A Codicil to the above, my last Will and Testament as contained on the three first pages of this sheet, made and executed this twenty-fourth day of March, one thousand, eight hundred and nine, viz :—

Whereas since making my last Will and Testament (which bears date the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eight) my wife is again pregnant, and desirous of doing justice to that as well as my other children, do make the following provisions for it, that is to say :

It is my wish and desire that the child my wife is now pregnant with, in case it is a son, shall have and be entitled to an equal proportion to the tract of land given to my three sons by my present wife, viz: Albert Gallatin, Henry Macon and Arthur Macon, subject to the same conditions in every respect, as is contained in my said last Will and Testament relative to the said last Will and Testament. And it is further my will and desire that the said child shall be entitled to an equal proportion of my other property with my other children by my present wife.

It is my will and desire in case the child my wife is now pregnant with should be a daughter, that it shall have an equal proportion of my estate with my other daughters of my present wife. My meaning is, in case the child is a son, to be placed on an equal footing with my three sons by my present wife; and in case it is a daughter, to be on equal footing with my daughters by my present wife.

It is my will and desire that my daughter, Ann Hunt Macon, shall in lieu of the Mare Bridget given her in my last Will and Testament, be entitled to a choice of said Mare or one of her colts by True Blue, the choice to be made by her at Christmas next—My meaning is that she have only one of them.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal, the day and year above mentioned.

to Greene County Ga. to occupy a tract of land willed to him by his father. He was active in military circles of that county during his residence there, serving as Captain of the Militia from 1817 to 1819. His name appears frequently in the records of the county. Before 1820 he moved to Hancock County, Ga., where he was Justice of the Inferior Court from 1822 to 1825. The Census of 1830 shows him still a resident of that county, his household consisting of himself, his wife, 7 children under 15 years of age, and 20 slaves. In the next Census—that of 1840—he is found in Macon, Bibb County, Ga., where, one authority says, he entertained in his home his uncle, the Hon. Nathaniel Macon, for whom the city was named. His household in 1840 was made up of himself, his wife, 9 children under 20 years of age, one male between 20 and 30, and a male and a female between 30 and 40. William G. Macon's last residence appears to have been in Lee County, Ga., where he was again Justice of the Inferior Court—1846 to 1848. As all records of that county were destroyed by fire, nothing further of his life there is available.

*According to the N. C. Census of 1800, the four oldest children by the second marriage were then under ten years old; the remaining four were therefore born between 1800 and 1809. Elizabeth Macon, who is apparently in the second group, has been repeatedly confused with another Elizabeth Macon of Randolph County, N. C., who was married to Charles Johnston in 1807 and is obviously many years older.

39. GIDEON MACON of Randolph County, N. C., was one of several members of the Macon family who about 1788 settled in that county, where they reared large families, many of whose descendants are there today. The parentage of these early Macons in Randolph County is unknown, but could probably be discovered in an intensive study of the Randolph records. There is reason for believing that one of them, John Macon, was the person of that name who in 1786 married in Granville County Mary Bowden; and it is possible that all the Randolph County Macons descended from John Macon, Jr., the brother of Gideon Hunt Macon, who came to North Carolina about 1738 (See 4-i).

The Census of 1790 shows that Gideon Macon of Randolph County was at that time head of a family consisting of two females, presumably a wife and daughter. The name of this first wife whom he probably married about 1788 is unknown. On 24 Dec. 1812 he was married a second time to REBECCA HINSHAW (1785-1860), of a well-known Quaker family of Randolph County. In the Holly Springs Quaker Records are the names of numerous Macons, most of whom are not descendants of Gideon. Rebecca Hinshaw Macon's will was made 8 June 1860; her husband Gideon Macon is said to have died about 1830.

C., and his wife Rebecca, who had previously married Shugan Johnson (See Thomas Hill-2). Early in the nineteenth century he moved to Greene County, Ga., where several of his Green, Alston, and Christmas relatives had preceded him. His plantation was one-half of a large tract of land given him by his father Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., to whom the entire tract had been given on 7 Jan. 1797 by his father-in-law, William Green, "for the natural love and good will that I bear my son-in-law." The tract is described in the deed-of-gift as "1450 acres purchased from Robert Christmas of Wilkes County, Ga., on waters of Richland Creek and bounded agreeable to a plat annexed to a grant of Robert Christmas," signed by Edward Telfair, Governor of Georgia, on Jan. 23, 1786.

To this inheritance Nathaniel Green Macon added adjoining acreage, leaving a considerable estate at his early death on 29 Jan. 1807. His wife survived him two years.

The will of Nathaniel Green Macon made on 28 Jan. 1807 and that of his wife, Martha Williamson Hill Macon, made on 27 Feb. 1809, copies of which are found below, are on file in the court-house in Greensboro, Greene County, Ga.

Will of Nathaniel Green Macon

I, Nathaniel Green Macon, of the County of Greene and the State of Georgia, being in perfect strength of mind and memory, do make this my last will and testament.

My will is first that all my just debts be paid.

I then give to my son, Edwin Hunt Macon, two thirds of my land including the tract that my father, Gideon Hunt Macon, gave me and the tract I purchased of George Hard, which both being where I am now settled: also eleven negroes, to wit: Ephraim, Sid, Jenny, Sam, Amy, Calvin, Lucy, Allen, Tiller, Allick, and Luther, to him and his heirs forever. But provided my son dies before he arrives to age or without a lawfully begotten heir, then my will is that all his land, the following five negroes and their increase, to wit: Sid, Jenny, Sam, Amy, and Allick, be equally divided between my brother William Macon and my two sisters, to wit: Ann Hunt Macon and Priscilla Mary Macon, their heirs and assigns forever, and the other six negroes and their increase to return to my beloved wife, her heirs and assigns forever.

I give to my beloved wife six negroes, to wit: Joe, Toney, Bridget, Harriet, Helen, and little Bridget, to her and her heirs and assigns forever. I also give unto my beloved wife one third of the before-mentioned tracts of land during her life time, then to return to my son if alive or to his lawful begotten heirs, if any. If he has no lawful begotten heirs or if he dies before he comes to lawful age, then the said land be equally divided between my brother and two sisters before mentioned, their heirs and assigns forever.

My will is further that stock of all kinds, household and kitchen furniture, any tools, gears, etc. be kept together for the use of my family until my son comes of age or my wife should marry; then to be equally divided between my wife and son.

My will is further that the negroes that I have willed to my son be kept on the plantation with my wife's property for the use and support of them both, unless my wife should marry, then to be divided as before mentioned and the neat [sic] proceeds, after their support so long as my wife may remain a widow, to be equally divided between them and my son's part to be put out to interest annually until he may marry or come of age.

My will is farther that if my son dies without heirs legally begotten and before he arrives to lawful age, for all the money that is coming to him from the estate to be equally divided between my brother and two sisters and their heirs before mentioned.

I also desire there should be no appraisement of my estate and lastly constitute and appoint my beloved wife executrix, and Robert W. Alston and Francis Boykin executors of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all others heretofore made.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal, this 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seven.

NATHANIEL GREEN MACON (Seal)

Signed, sealed and acknowledged

Will of Martha Williamson Hill Macon

In the name of God, Amen.

I, Martha Williamson Macon, do make and constitute this my will and testament, viz.:

I give to my beloved son, Edwin H. Macon, five negroes to wit: Joe, Toney, Hariet, little Bridget, and Marianny provided nevertheless that he my son Edwin should die without heir, then the above named negroes be sold to persons of their own choice and the money arising from said sale to be equally divided between my three sisters Rebecca Foster, Mary Goodlow, and Temperance Mayben. [Mebane]

I desire my bed curtains, three bed quilts, two counterpanes and one pair of sheets be given to my son Edwin.

I desire that my son's negroes remain together on the plantation and all present livestock except one cow and calf to remain on the plantation for the support of the family.

I desire that my claim of my mother's estate be given to Thomas Body [Boddie], a minor son of George Body.

I give my negro woman Bridget her freedom and that she remain under the care of my good friend Francis Boykin. I give to the said Bridget one cow and calf, and that she have annually three barrels of corn and two hundred and fifty weight of pork during her natural life to be drawn from my estate.

I give to my friend Josiah Randle, Gen. my negro girl Helen together with any issue she may have, to him and to his heirs forever.

I desire all my remaining household furniture be sold together with my riding chair.

I appoint my friend Francis Boykin sole executor of this my last will and testament and recommend my soul to God, this 27th day of February one thousand eight hundred and nine.

45. HARRIET HARTWELL MACON-5 (27 Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr.-4; Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born at Macon Manor, Warren County, N. C., 22 Jan. 1803, and died at her plantation home near Watkinsville in Clarke (now Oconee) County, Ga., on 10 April 1850. While visiting in the home of her nephew,

Dr. Edwin Hunt Macon in Greene County, Ga., she was married on 6 Oct. 1825 by the Rev. Lovick Pierce to ROBERT ADAMS JONES (b. 31 Jan. 1801; d. 20 Mar. 1843). He was the son of William Jones and his wife Mary who had previously married Merryman Thorn; and was one of the early graduates of the University of Georgia, having received his A.B. degree there in 1822. (See Stephen Jones-2.)

For several years Harriet Hartwell Macon and her husband lived on a plantation near the village of Salem in what is now Oconee County, Ga. On 30 Dec. 1834 this plantation was sold and the family moved to Meriwether County, Ga. Here Robert Adams Jones bought a large plantation and four large town lots in Greenville, the county seat. Eight years later he died and was buried in the town cemetery beside the grave of a little son. The widow and five children returned to Clarke County to the home of his father, William Jones, whose wife had died shortly after the death of their son. These children were well educated and were bequeathed a large part of their grandfather's estate. Harriet Hartwell Macon Jones was buried in the William Jones lot in the cemetery in Watkinsville, Ga.

65. DR. EDWIN HUNT MACON-6 (44 Nathaniel Green Macon-5; Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr.-4; Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born 28 Feb. 1803 in Warren County, N. C. At an early age he moved with his parents to Greene County, Georgia, where he lived the remainder of his life. Both father and mother having died before he was seven years of age, he was reared and educated by guardians, among whom were Robert West Alston, Francis Boykin, William Green Macon, John Houghton, and finally his father-in-law, Thomas Wingfield Grimes.

He had superior educational advantages for that period. For several years he attended Mt. Zion School near Sparta under the direction of a celebrated headmaster, Dr. Beman; there he was prepared for Franklin College, University of Georgia in Athens, from which he transferred to Medical College.

On 1 Nov. 1821 he was married by the Rev. Lovick Pierce to LILIAS AMANDA GRIMES (b. 6 May 1804; d. 2 Aug. 1861), daughter of Thomas Wingfield Grimes and his wife Charity Nickelson of Greensboro, Ga. (See William Grimes-3), and a woman of superior qualities of mind and character.

The estates of his parents appear to have been handled wisely by his guardians; so when Edwin Hunt Macon came into his inheritance, he was for that time a man of affluence. Besides the plantation and Negroes, he owned eight choice lots in the town of Greensboro, bonds, and money. Before many years, however, there arose grave financial difficulties, caused, it is said, by his having to forfeit a large bond for a friend.

He then bought a tract of land in and adjoining the little town of Penfield where the Baptists of Georgia had founded a school which shortly developed into Mercer University, and where there was also a Female Academy. Here he practiced his profession, going from time to time to medical centers for further study. In 1833 he spent several months in Philadelphia attending lectures and studying dentistry, a knowledge of which was then requisite for medical doctors.

In the meantime, although he had been reared an Episcopalian and his wife had been a member of the Methodist Church, in which their first five children had been baptized in infancy, they became communicants of the Baptist Church; and were thereafter zealous in the religious life of the little college town. That he was actively interested in the college also is indicated by the fact that he was the organizer and first president of the Phi Delta Literary Society, which continues to this day. He was elected to the first Board of Trustees of Mercer University, remaining in that office as long as he lived.

His death occurred in Penfield 5 Feb. 1841. He was buried in the village cemetery where his wife and three of his children were later interred.

On 13 March 1883, long after the death of both Dr. Edwin Hunt Macon and his wife Lilius Amanda Grimes, the following article appeared in The Christian Index. It was written by the editor, Lincoln Lionel Veazey, who had attended Mercer University during the residence of the Macon family in Penfield.

EARLY DWELLERS AROUND MERCER

Of those who were attracted to make homes in the little village that began to spring up around the young Institute, one of the earliest, and one of the most useful, was Dr. Edwin Hunt Macon. He moved thither from Greensboro, where he had married and had been living for a number of years. His wife, Miss Lilius Grimes, was one of a very large family, noted in the several parts of the State in which they have lived, for their wealth, intelligence and public spirit. The first years of their married lives had been passed in easy, almost affluent circumstances. But a great financial reverse—brought on, as we have been told, by his too confiding friendship—had driven him to rely upon his profession as a means of supporting his large family. Moving to the new village, he selected one of the prettiest lots and erected thereon a plain, though commodious house, planned with special reference to the accommodation of boarders. This they generally filled from bottom to top; for besides the fact that there were hardly rooms enough in the village to accommodate all the students, Dr. Macon and his wife were people with whom it was very pleasant to board. He interested himself actively in all that concerned the welfare of the Institute. He had sometime before this become a Baptist, and had been encouraged to exercise his gift of speech in public, though he never, we believe, became a regular minister. His piety and culture, however, exerted a highly favorable influence upon the young men. When it was proposed to disband the old Franklin Society and organize two in its stead, he was selected as one of the umpires, and he may therefore, be considered the very first member of the Phi Delta Society. Not for many years, however, was he permitted to labor in this field where he rendered himself so largely useful. While still a young man, his health gave way, and after a lingering illness of months he died, leaving a widow and five sons and five daughters, most of them quite young. It was a heavy task thrown upon the frail, delicate woman—a task for which she seemed ill-prepared by her early experience. But Providence brought her in this hour of need, warm-hearted and liberal-handed friends. By their aid, she was enabled to rear and educate all her children. Her daughters became highly accomplished ladies, such as would have adorned any society. By their polished and agreeable manners they contributed largely to elevate the community morally and intellectually. Nor was their influence confined to the village of their mother's home. From time to time, one and another of them went forth to teach elsewhere, and they always commanded respect and admiration. Association with these refined, cultivated and intellectual young ladies was a source of great improvement to the students. Hundreds of them carry in their memories pleasant recollections of the evenings spent in their little parlor. The two younger, before their early deaths, were happily married and became fond mothers. Other two dropped quietly out of life while still young, though they had won the love of a large circle of friends. The elder and most gifted of them was the last survivor, dying but a year or two since, having blessed the lives of two men in the capacity of wife.

Each of the five sons was a student of Mercer; but only the two younger are numbered among her Alumni. They were young men of fine promise, and would doubtless, had their lives been spared, have achieved distinction. The second son had long since passed over the river. Of the family of ten who lived to be grown, two only survive—Dr. Thomas Grimes Macon of Clarke County, and Edgar Nathaniel Macon, of Putnam County.

The mother, after living to see her youngest daughter married and having, in the flattering prospects of all her surviving children, the assurance that she had done well her part, died in the early days of the war at the home of her sister in Macon. She was a woman of peculiar loveliness of character. It was her lot to be subjected to trials more severe than ordinarily fall to people. From this ordeal of sorrow she came forth with a calm, meek patience, such as the Christian ever should, but rarely does exhibit. Among the early dwellers around Mercer, she deserves honorable commemoration, as one who by her culture, by her piety, by the warm love of her heart, and by the labor of her hands, strove to do what she might in the building up of the Institution.

Children of Dr. Edwin Hunt Macon and his wife, Lilias Amanda Grimes:

- i. EVALINA IWANONA MACON, b. 15 Aug. 1822, Greensboro, Ga.; d. 15 May 1881, Macon, Ga. She m. 1st 20 Jan. 1856 ANSEL MILTON ALBRITTON who d. 20 Nov. of same year; m. 2nd ca. 1870 JUDGE THOMAS GLOVER of Twiggs County, whom she survived. Oldest of a family of ten children, and a woman of unusual intelligence, personal magnetism, and energy, she was the chief stay of her mother and of her brothers and sisters after her father's early death. Later she became the adored "Aunt Lina" of her nieces and nephews, several of whom had been left motherless. Some of her charming letters to these children still exist, silent witnesses of her unfailing affection for them. She was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery, Macon, Ga., beside her first husband.
80. ii. THOMAS GRIMES MACON, b. 16 Nov. 1824.
- iii. AMANDA ADELINE ALSTON MACON, b. 21 Feb. 1827, Greensboro, Ga.; d. 20 Apr. 1857, Penfield, Ga.

- v. EDWIN HUNT MACON, JR., b. 26 Oct. 1830, Greensboro, Ga.; d. 16 May 1857, Penfield, Ga. From childhood a victim of inflammatory rheumatism, he was unable to complete his college work. A newspaper account of his death describes him as "a young man of noble and generous impulses; candid and sincere in his intercourse with mankind, incapable of deceit, blessed with a vigorous intellect, and greatly beloved."

81. vi. EDGAR NATHANIEL MACON, b. 8 Nov. 1831.

vii. GEORGE EARLY MACON, b. 13 May 1834, Penfield, Ga.; d. 21 June 1871, Clayton, Ala. He m. 1868 JANE MCNEILL, daughter of Dr. John C. McNeill of Clayton. After receiving A.B. and M.A. degrees from Mercer University, he taught school for several years before entering the University of Georgia, where he studied law under the Hon. Joseph Henry Lumpkin and the Hon. William Hope Hull, receiving his B.L. degree in 1861. He then began the practice of law in Clayton, Ala., which continued until his death, with a long interruption for service in the Confederate Army. He joined as a private in the Barbour Grays under Capt. Blackford, but was soon promoted to the rank of Lieutenant; later to that of Captain. His health failing after two years of service in the Army of Virginia, he was sent home on recruiting duty. Subsequently he was detailed as Quartermaster of the 39th Alabama Regiment, where he remained until the end of the war. After his death his wife and children left Alabama, joining relatives in Texas.

80. DR. THOMAS GRIMES MACON-7 (65 Edwin Hunt Macon-6; Nathaniel Green Macon-5; Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr.-4; Gideon Hunt Macon-3; John Macon-2; Gideon Macon-1) was born 16 Nov. 1824 in Greensboro, Ga., and died 27 Dec. 1893 in Pitts, Ga. His pre-medical education was received at Mercer University, after which he "read medicine" one year under his uncle, Dr. Thomas Grimes. He then entered the Georgia Medical College in Augusta from which he received his medical degree.

Dr. Macon married first 4 Jan. 1849 ALETHEA JANE JONES, who was born 6 Feb. 1829, daughter of Robert Adams Jones and his wife Harriet Hartwell Macon (See 67). Shortly afterward he began the practice of medicine in Watkinsville, Ga., where four of their children were born. Later he moved to a plantation ever since known as the Macon Place in Puryear's District, Clarke County, Ga. He served throughout the War Between the States, first in the Athens Guards; then as Lieutenant in Capt. Elliot's Company, Maj. Cook's Battalion, Gen. Howell Cobb's Division. Returning home after the surrender he found his wife dying, her death having been hastened by exposure. Soldiers from Sherman's Army, in the hope of finding family silver concealed in the mattresses, had forced her to arise from her sick-bed in bitter cold weather.

After the death of his wife, which occurred 5 June 1865, he married on 27 Sep. 1866 EMILY CAROLINE CUL-BERSON (b. 8 Sep. 1848; d. 25 Oct. 1928), daughter of David H. Culberson and his wife Mary Jane Young. They continued to live at the Macon Place until 1877 when they moved to Whitesville, Ga., and some years thereafter to South Georgia where they lived the remainder of their lives.

CHAPTER 9

WILLIAM WOODWARD

Martha Woodward, who was married first to Col. Gideon Macon of New Kent County, Va., to whom she bore eight children, married as her second husband Capt. Nathaniel West of King William County and to them one daughter was born. Her third husband, whom she married in 1727, was a Scotsman whose name was Biggers.

1. Martha Woodward's father, WILLIAM WOODWARD, is said to have come from England to Isle of Wight County, Va., in 1642. He patented 2,100 acres of land in New Kent, later King William County, and evidently had dealings with the neighboring Indians, an Algonquin tribe known as the Pamunkeys, for whom he became an interpreter. After the Indian massacres of 1622 and 1641, sponsored by Opachancanough, the Council of Virginia had forbidden colonists from settling beyond certain bounds. But on 27 Sep. 1664 William Woodward bought 2,000 acres in the forbidden area from "Cocka Coeske, Queen of Pomunke, upon desire of said Queene that the said Mr. Woodward might seat upon the said land by her assigned and sett over to him." Her request was granted by order of "the Governor and Councell, 24 Nov. 1664."

The identity of William Woodward's wife is unknown although there are references to her as a member of the West family. One authority says she was daughter of Sir Thomas West, Third Lord Delaware, Governor of Virginia, 1609-1618; while another states that she was the daughter of one Thomas Henley.

To William Woodward and his wife were born:

- i. PHILIP WOODWARD, called "Philemon."
- ii. JOHN WOODWARD, SR.

- iii. SAMUEL WOODWARD.
- 2. iv. ANNE WOODWARD.
- 3. v. MARTHA WOODWARD.*

2. ANNE WOODWARD-2 (William Woodward-1) was married first to CAPT. THOMAS SPENCER; her second marriage was to her cousin, WILLIAM AYLETT, son of John Aylett, who patented lands in King William County ca. 1666 and "married Eliza Woodward, sister of the Indian trader, William Woodward."

To Anne Woodward and her second husband William Aylett were born:

- i. BENJAMIN AYLETT.
- ii. JOHN AYLETT; d. y.

3. MARTHA WOODWARD-2 (William Woodward-1) was married first to COL. GIDEON MACON. To their descendants the main body of this volume is devoted.

On 14 May 1702 Martha Woodward was married to her second husband, CAPT. NATHANIEL WEST, son of

*A note from King William County published in The Virginia Magazine, Vol. XXXI, p. 343, shows that William Woodward had two daughters—Anne, who married Capt. Thomas Spencer; and Martha, who as the widow of Col. Gideon Macon had married Capt. Nathaniel West.

Col. John West of West Point (the first child of English parents to be born on the York River) and grandson of Capt. John West, Governor of Virginia, 1635-37. Capt. Nathaniel West was Burgess for King William County 1703-04 and died about 1724.

To Martha Woodward and her second husband Capt. Nathaniel West was born one child:

4. UNITY WEST, b. ca. 1703; married 18 Mar. 1719, as second wife, COL. WILLIAM DANDRIDGE, of Elsing Green, older brother of Col. John Dandridge who m. 1730 Frances Jones, half-niece of Unity West. (See Macon-7.) Col. William Dandridge was Member of Council in 1727. His will was dated 25 Aug. 1743; that of his wife, 9 July 1753.

CHAPTER 10

WILLIAM HUNT

Ann Hunt, wife of John Macon of New Kent County, Va., was a member of the Hunt family of Charles City County—a family which has been described as “numerous and respectable.” According to the St. Peter's Parish Register, she died 8 Feb. 1724/5, at which time she was about twenty-seven years old. Her name occurs rarely in the colonial records, but has been perpetuated through many generations of her descendants.

It is believed by some that the progenitor of this family in America was William Hunt, “a Huguenot doctor of physick” who lived and was buried at Bachelor's Point, Charles City County. He and one Edmund Cheesman were chief aides and abettors of Nathaniel Bacon in that first struggle for democracy in America, known as Bacon's Rebellion of 1676. All three of these chief actors were dead before they could be tried. In Henning's Statutes is a statement that “the death of Bacon has never been satisfactorily accounted for; a conjecture is that he, Cheesman, and Hunt fell by the hands of assassins employed by the government.” However, they were attainted of high treason and their property was confiscated. William Hunt's tombstone shows that he died 11 Nov. 1676 at an advanced age.

1. WILLIAM HUNT, the first known ancestor of Ann Hunt Macon, could have been the son of the above William Hunt, although his death occurred prior to that of the old patriot. He evidently died early in life as, in a period when large families were usual, he had only four children and his wife married a second husband. This is shown in a Charles City County record of 20 Aug. 1668, in which Richard Parker, in behalf of his wife Judith, relict of William Hunt, requested administration of the estate of said Hunt who had died intestate. William Hunt's wife was JUDITH BURTON, daughter of Richard Burton and his wife Katherine Christian.

To them were born the following children:

2. i. WILLIAM HUNT, JR.

- ii. JUDITH HUNT, m. 1st JAMES CLARK; m. 2nd RICHARD PARKER, JR. Four children.
- iii. MARY HUNT, m. 1st ROBERT EDWARDS—four children; m. 2nd OWEN GRIFFIN—five children; m. 3rd WILLIAM BODDIE—d.s.p.
- iv. GODFREY HUNT, m. a MISS IZZARD.

2. WILLIAM HUNT, JR., the father of Ann Hunt Macon, lived at Kennon's Warehouse on the James River, Charles City County. He married TABITHA, who is believed to be the daughter of Lt.-Col. Matthew Edloe and his wife Tabitha Minge. He is listed as a Captain in the Virginia Military Forces of Charles City County in 1698. He was also a Justice of the Quorum in that county the following year. The Quit Rents of 1704 show him owner of 3,130 acres of land. His will, made 1 May 1714, was probated in Charles City County and later recorded in Surry County with an attached memorandum stating that one of his daughters was the wife of John Macon.

Field Jefferson's first wife was Mary Frances Robertson (1706-1750); he and his second wife, Mary Hunt, lived on Occoneechee Farm in that part of Lunenburg County which was cut off from Mecklenburg.

CHAPTER 11

EDWARD JONES

- Priscilla Jones, whose first husband was Gideon Hunt
1. Macon, was a great-granddaughter of EDWARD JONES of York and Isle of Wight Counties, Virginia. He was a brother of the Rev. Rowland Jones, first rector of Bruton Parish, Virginia, whose son, Orlando Jones, was the husband of Martha Macon. (See Macon-2.) This Edward
 2. Jones, whose wife is unknown, was the father of EDWARD JONES, JR., whose will was made in Isle of Wight County 15 Jan. 1722 and recorded in July 1730. He married DEBORAH EXUM, as shown in his own will and in that of her father, William Exum (wife, Jane), written 3 Dec. 1701.

3. EDWARD JONES, III, was one of the earliest settlers of Edgecomb County, N. C., from part of which Granville County was formed in 1746. In truth, it was largely through his efforts that the new county came into existence. In his home at Boiling Springs, later known as Shocco Springs and as Jones's Springs, the first Court of Granville was held 3 Sep. 1746. Worth S. Ray, in his Colonial Granville, says:

“Any purported account of the early history of Granville County could not be written without mention of Edward Jones and his descendants who exercised a wide influence on the destinies of the Province of North Carolina, particularly of Granville County.”

Among the numerous public activities of Edward Jones may be listed those of Road Commissioner in 1748 and of Member of the General Assembly from Granville County from 1746 to 1751. His will was made 16 Nov. 1750 and probated in 1752.

The wife of Edward Jones was an unusual woman. Of French descent, ABIGAIL SHUGAN—sometimes spelled Sugan, Sugar, Sugars, or Sheugars—is said by one authority to have sprung from one of the Huguenot families of Manakin Town, Virginia; another claims that her origin was in the Huguenot part of the De Graffenried Colony of New Bern, North Carolina. Her father was John Sugars,* in whose will, recorded in Isle of Wight County 25 Sep. 1727, were recorded legacies to his daughters, Elizabeth Bynum, Abigail Jones, and Priscilla Sugars; his grand-son Sugars Jones; and his wife Elizabeth.

ABIGAIL SHUGAN is said to have been the first white woman to cross the Roanoke River and to have been remarkably well qualified to meet the exigencies of pioneer life. Her strong traits of character left their impress upon succeeding generations of her numerous posterity, many of whom have acquired distinction in life. She survived her husband EDWARD JONES, and was later married to THOMAS COOK of Franklin County, N. C. The latter made his will 16 Oct. 1791 leaving all of his property, consisting of land, Negroes, cattle, horses, tools, and a

*There is a record in Surry County of one John Sugars, who married first in 1688 Elizabeth, relict of Thomas Clay (W.B. 2, p. 40); his second wife was also named Elizabeth, widow of John Drew (B.K.—1711, p. 48). If this John Sugars is the father of Abigail, her family was not that of the Manakin Town settlement, which was made by new immigrants in 1700.

5. PRISCILLA JONES-4 (3 Edward Jones, III-3; Edward Jones, Jr.-2; Edward Jones-1) was born about 1729. Her marriage to GIDEON HUNT MACON of Granville County, N. C., occurred about 1744. He died probably early in 1762, leaving eight children. On 9 Feb. 1763 she was married to JAMES RANSOM who died in Bute County, N. C., in 1777. As his administratrix, Amey Ransom, was presumably his wife, it would appear that his first wife, Priscilla Jones, had died some time previously—probably not earlier than 1774, as six children had been born to the union.

CHAPTER 12

EDWARD GREEN

Mary Green, the first wife of Gideon Hunt Macon of Warren County, N. C., belonged to a family whose colonial ancestors lived in Culpepper County, Va. According to family records, they afterwards settled in Brunswick County of the same state. The first of the family whose name is definitely known is EDWARD GREEN, grandfather of Mary Green Macon. He first married a MISS HOUGH who was the mother of ten children. After her death he married the widowed mother of ten children, a MRS. TURNER, whose maiden name was HENRIETTA POWELL. From this marriage an only child, William Green, was born 26 Nov. 1739, while they were still living in Virginia. Upon moving to North Carolina, the family made their home one and a half miles north-east of Warrenton.

2. WILLIAM GREEN, the twenty-first child in the Edward Green family, was married three times. His first wife, to whom he was married 25 Sep. 1760, was MARY CHRISTMAS (b. 14 July 1745). Her father John Christmas, Jr. (d. 1777) belonged to a large and prominent family, who in early colonial days lived in York County, Va. The family of her mother, Ann, is unknown.

William Green and his wife Mary Christmas made their home at Bridal Creek, near Warrenton, where eleven children were born to them. He was very prosperous, acquiring large tracts of land, not only in North Carolina, but also in neighboring states, especially Georgia. The Census of 1790 shows him owner also of a large number of slaves. At the beginning of the American Revolution, he enlisted and on 1 Sep. 1775 was made Captain of a company in the First North Carolina Regiment, Continental Line. He also served as Member of the North Carolina Assembly.

After the death of his first wife (about 1788) Capt. Green married 7 June 1790 MRS. ANN HUNT MACON ALSTON, daughter of Gideon Hunt Macon and his wife Priscilla Jones, and widow of Capt. John Alston to whom she had borne six children. (See Macon-22.) She died in April 1798, and shortly afterward he married MRS. MARY VAN DYKE, who survived him. He died in 1799.

Children of Capt. William Green and his first wife Mary Christmas:

- i. ANNE GREEN, b. 22 Nov. 1761; m. (2nd w.) 9 Dec. 1783 in Wilkes County, Ga., JOHN SPRINGER. Her will made in that county (1827) was probated 2 May 1836. John Springer, b. near Wilmington, Del., 1744, of Swedish parents; d. near Washington, Ga., 1798. A soldier of the Revolution, he drew bounty land in Georgia for his service. His wife, who survived him nearly 40 years, also drew land in 1804, 1819, and 1832, as the widow of a Revolutionary soldier. He m. 1st, Catherine Bullock of Granville County, N. C., who, it appears, was the mother of three daughters—Sally, Elizabeth and Nancy.

John Springer has a unique place in the history of the Presbyterian Church in Georgia. In 1790 a congregation of that denomination having been organized in Washington, Ga., the Rev. Robert Hall and the Rev. Francis Cummins came over from the South Carolina Synod. Under a poplar tree, no meeting house having been erected, on 22 July 1790, the Rev. John Springer was ordained by them—the first Presbyterian minister to take orders in the State of Georgia and the first pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Washington, Ga. After his ordination he and the Rev. Hope Hull of the Methodist Church conducted in Washington for several years a successful classical school.

Children:

1. Susanna Springer, d. before 1801.
2. Mary Ann Springer, d. before 1801.

1808 Mary Baxter (1794-1847), dau. of Andrew Baxter, Jr. of Georgia, and grand-dau. of Andrew Baxter, Sr. of N. C., both of whom were Revolutionary soldiers. William Green Springer was at one time a prominent business man of Sparta, Ga., where he owned a hotel. Later he moved to Carroll County, Ga., and was elected to the Georgia State Senate in 1838. Like his father who weighed nearly four hundred pounds, he was an unusually large man.

THOMAS HILL

- Martha Williamson Hill, wife of Nathaniel Green Macon, belonged to a prominent family of Halifax County, N. C. Her grandfather, THOMAS HILL, was a wealthy planter of that county. In his lengthy will, made 27 Nov. 1787 and probated two years later, he left to his heirs about 4,000 acres of land and one hundred Negroes. His wife, SARAH, made her will 24 Jan. 1791, and it was proved in 1793.

CHAPTER 14

WILLIAM GRIMES

1. Lillas Amanda Grimes, wife of Dr. Edwin Hunt Macon, was a great-granddaughter of CAPT. WILLIAM GRIMES of Hanover County, Va. Most of the records of this county have been destroyed, but from a fifty-year-old copy of a family chart made before the War Between the States, some facts are obtainable. Capt. Grimes was born in 1730. He married MARY STERLING and died during the Revolution—1777. He is mentioned in the Vestry Book of St. Paul's, Hanover, as a land processioner from 1755 to 1763.

Children of Capt. William Grimes and his wife Mary Sterling:

- i. WILLIAM GRIMES, JR., b. ca. 1756. In 1782 he was taxed in Hanover County for "540 acres of land, 9 slaves, 18 horses and cattle and 2 wheels." He m. in Virginia, MILDRED DRURY who survived him. He and his brother, John Grimes, probably came to Georgia at the same time (1784). Early records in Wilkes County of that state show that he purchased land there in 1786; and on 3 Apr. 1792, he and his wife sold 200 acres in that county. On 29 Dec. 1794 he signed a will in Elbert County, Ga., which was probated 8 Jan. 1795.

Children:

1. William Grimes.
 2. Thomas M. Grimes.
 3. Elizabeth (Betsy) Grimes m. William Carter and had at least one child, Sterling Grimes Carter.
2. ii. JOHN GRIMES.
 - iii. HENRY GRIMES.
 - iv. MARY GRIMES m. a MR. FONTAINE.

2. JOHN GRIMES-2 (1 William Grimes-1), born 1758 in Hanover County, Va., was a soldier of the American Revolution. He m. 1st ca. 1776 ELIZABETH WINGFIELD (b. ca. 1758; d. before 1792), daughter of Thomas Wingfield* and his wife Elizabeth Terrell.

John Grimes with a large number of Hanover County people — Garlands, Wingfields, Terrells, and others — moved to Wilkes County, Ga., shortly after the Revolution. Beginning in 1784, he is found in records of land deals which indicate that he acquired considerable acreage within and adjacent to the town of Washington. After the death of his first wife, he married 26 Mar. 1792 MRS. SARAH STOKES WHARRY, dau. of William Stokes of Elbert County. He died prior to 13 June 1803, when his "orphans" participated in a Land Lottery. As their mother had no part in this, it is probable she had already married a 3rd husband, a Mr. Bedell.

Children of John Grimes and his first wife Elizabeth Wingfield:

3. i. THOMAS WINGFIELD GRIMES, b. 1777.
4. ii. LUCY GRIMES, b. 13 May 1778.
- iii. JOHN GRIMES, M.D., b. 1781; d. 24 June 1816; buried in Colonial Cemetery, Savannah, Ga. He studied medicine at Medical School, Univ. of Pennsylvania; in Philadelphia he was a valued assistant to the great surgeon, Dr. Philip Syng Physick; began practice of medicine in Savannah in 1803; a founder of the Georgia Medical Society and its first Secretary; for several years, a member of Georgia Legislature where he did much to advance health interest in Georgia.

Dr. Grimes m. CATHERINE JONES GLEN, dau. of John Glen, first Justice of Georgia, and his wife

Thomas Wingfield's* ancestry has been traced in direct line to the reign of Edward I (1272-1307); while that of his wife, Elizabeth Terrell, extends as far back as the tenth century. Both lines with their numerous ramifications include many interesting persons—saints, as well as sinners, crusaders, Knights of the Garter, Magna Charta barons, and royalty.

Sarah Jones, dau. of Dr. Noble Wimberley Jones. Among the children of this marriage was a dau., Sarah Jones Grimes, who m. 4 Jan. 1827, James Potter (b. 1793). Their dau. Catherine Elizabeth Potter m. Philip Poullain, a grandson of Dr. Antoine Poullain (d. 1794), private physician to the Marquis de La Fayette in the American Revolution, and his wife Sarah Garland Wingfield.

5. iv. STERLING GRIMES, b. 10 June 1782.

CHAPTER 15

PATRICK JACK

Charity Nickelson, wife of Thomas Wingfield Grimes, was a daughter of Joseph Nickelson (Nicholson) and his wife Lillis Jack; and a grand-daughter of Patrick Jack, a colorful Revolutionary figure of Mecklenburg County, N. C.

The late Josiah Van Kirk Thompson, a wealthy resident of Pennsylvania, spent a fortune in tracing the European backgrounds of his American ancestors. Among these was the Jack family whose authentic history began in the 6th of Henry IV, when a commission was issued to one Thomas Jack, a merchant engaged in the shipping business. From him in direct line

1. came three hundred years later PATRICK JACK who was born 19 Sep. 1700 in Ballykelly, County Derry, Ireland.

With his parents—Patrick Jack Sr., and his wife Ellen Jervis—he moved in early life to Ardstraw, County Tyrone, near Newton, Limavaddy. Shortly thereafter the family emigrated to the New World, settling in Chester County, Pennsylvania, where the elder Patrick died in 1726.

The son, PATRICK JACK, obtained in 1733 a warrant for 300 acres of land in Lancaster County, Pa., where he made his home, having married LILLIS McADOO (McAdough), who is represented as "one of the best of women." He became an officer in the local military organization, the Lancaster Battalion, and continued his residence there until about 1760, when he, his wife, and most of their children moved to Rowan County, N. C.

Two years later Patrick Jack moved to the adjoining county of Mecklenburg. That he prospered in his new home is shown by the fact that in 1775, and subsequently, he and his eldest son, James Jack, were owners of several of the finest blocks in Charlotte Town. Directly opposite the present site of the First Presbyterian Church, on Trade Street, they resided and kept a house of public entertainment, which became a meeting place of those wishing to discuss the political issues of the period preceding the Revolution. Although advanced in years, Patrick Jack was made a member of the Committee of Safety and, by his ready wit and genial humor, was able to accomplish much in inculcating his own patriotic principles.

This activity was not unknown to the British. On 26 Sep. 1780, Col. Tarleton, sent ahead by Gen. Cornwallis, entered Charlotte and one of his first acts was to wreak vengeance upon the aged man. Although at the time Patrick was ill, his house with all its contents was burned to the ground. The reason assigned for this barbarous act was that "old Jack was a promoter of American independence and all his sons were in the rebel army." Patrick Jack and his wife were rescued from their burning home, but the exposure and shock were so great their lives were shortened. He died within a few months; and she a few years later. Both were buried in the graveyard behind the Presbyterian Church in which they had been worthy and consistent members.

Patrick Jack's will made 19 May 1780, in which James Jack and Joseph Nicholson were named executors, was probated in January, 1781.

2. CAPT. JAMES JACK-2 (1 Patrick Jack-1), famous as the bearer of the Mecklenburg Declaration of 20 May 1775 to the Continental Congress in Philadelphia, was born in Pennsylvania in 1732. About 1760 he moved with other members of his family to Rowan County, N. C. On 20 Nov. 1766 he married MARGARET HOUSTON, moving shortly afterward to his place at the head of the Catawba River; later, he joined his father in Mecklenburg County. At the beginning of the Revolution he entered service in command of a company whose Captain he remained throughout the war in spite of offered promotions. Shortly after the Revolution he moved with his family to Wilkes County, Ga., where he prospered as a model planter. About 1814 he moved to the adjoining county of Elbert. There on 18 Dec. 1822 he died in his ninety-first year, his wife surviving him two years.

8. LILLIS JACK-2 (1 Patrick Jack-1) was born in Pennsylvania about 1754. She married in Mecklenburg County, N. C., about 1772, JOSEPH NICHOLSON, who later was a soldier of the American Revolution. In 1781 he was named as executor of the will of Patrick Jack, his father-in-law. In 1782 he was a member of the Grand Jury of Mecklenburg County; in the same year he was given leave to keep "a tavarn [sic] in his now dwelling-house in Charlotte." Later, in the Minute Docket of Mecklenburg County, it was recorded that "it was ordered that Mr. Joseph Nicholson be allowed 675 dollars for room and firewood during the setting of this Court, and that the County Trustees pay the same."

With others of the Jack Family, Joseph Nicholson, his wife, and children moved to Georgia about 1785, living first in Augusta. By 1790, he had moved to Wilkes County where he remained until December 1808, when he purchased a plantation in Greene County. Thereafter in all Greene County records his name is spelled Nickelson. This may have been due to the presence there of a family, not closely related, who used the spelling Nicholson. He died before 20 May 1826 when there appeared in the Minutes of the Ordinary Court of Greene County a reference to the estate of Joseph Nickelson. As his wife's name does not occur in the settlement of the estate, it may be presumed that she had died previously.

Children of Lillis Jack and her husband Joseph Nickelson (Nicholson):

- i. JOHN CANDOR NICKELSON, b. ca. 1773; administrator of his father's estate; d. after Jan. 1835. Buried in Madison, Ga.

ELIZA ANN STONE, dau. of Osborne Stone and his wife Ann Wingfield Butler. Having a marked interest in genealogy, he did much in the preservation of the records of his parents' ancestors—the Wing-fields, Garlands, Terrells, and Jacks. His wife was also a descendant of the first two of these families, who are recorded on the Wingfield-Garland Family Tree. It was in the Bank in Washington, Ga., of which Samuel Barnett, Jr., was president, that the last meeting of the Cabinet of President Jefferson Davis of the Confederate States of America was held.

STEPHEN JONES

Robert Adams Jones (1801-1843) who married Harriet Hartwell Macon (See Macon-46), daughter of Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., and his second wife, Mary Hartwell, was descended from a

Jones family in Virginia, of whom much is yet to be learned. His grand-father was STEPHEN JONES, the first of the family known to us, and a more or less shadowy figure.

1. According to the wife of one of his grandsons, he spent his early life in Halifax County, Va., and was a soldier of the American Revolution. She further averred that his latter years were spent just across the state line from Halifax County in Person County, N. C., where he died at an advanced age. The latter statement has been corroborated by records in Person County which show that he was a resident and tax-payer for many years before his death in 1835. That he was a man of means is most likely, for his two oldest sons who went to Georgia in their young manhood immediately became owners of land and slaves.

Stephen Jones was born about 1750 and was twice married. His first wife, the mother of eight children, is said to have been a MISS ADAMS. Since two grandsons by this marriage bore Adams as a middle name, it would seem probable that it was a family name. The second wife, whose given name was NANCY, was the mother of four children and survived her husband. It may be that she was the Nancy Thomson who married a Stephen Jones in Halifax County, Va., in 1802; but this is a mere conjecture.

The will of Stephen Jones, written 20 Nov. 1834 and witnessed by Robert Harris and Thomas Halyburton, was proved in Person County, November 1835. In it he named all of his children, but unfortunately failed to give the married names of his daughters. To each of his first wife's children, the youngest of whom had been married seventeen years, he left $572.87½. To his second wife Nancy and her four children, he left all his land, Negroes, and other property.

It is regrettable that so little is known of Stephen Jones, who must have been a man of fine character if we may judge him by the reputation of his sons who went to Georgia.

Children of Stephen Jones and his first wife :

2. i. JOSEPH JONES, b. ca. 1775.
3. ii. WILLIAM JONES, b. 13 Dec. 1777.
- iii. SUSANA JONES.
- iv. CATHARINE JONES.
- v. MARY JONES.
- vi. STEPHEN G. JONES, whose middle name, according to some Georgia relatives, was Gabriel, the name by which he was called. Stephen Jones in his will indicated that his son Stephen G. had died before the will was made, as his legacy was left to his heirs.
- viii. LUCY JONES m. in Clarke County, Ga., 6 July 1818
DAVID CHRISTOPHER.

Children :

 - xi. LEAH JONES.
 - xii. REBECCA JONES.
2. JOSEPH JONES-2 (1 Stephen Jones-1) was born ca. 1775 in Virginia and married 1779 MARY BAYLISS of North Carolina, only daughter in a family of nine sons, all of whom were in the Revolutionary Army. That he first came to Columbia County, Ga., moving from there to Clarke

County, Ga., where he lived the remainder of his life, is indicated by a land sale recorded in the latter county 7 Dec. 1804. A tract of land "in Clarke on the south side of the Oconee River, adjoining lands of John Barnett and Ben McRee," is conveyed in this document from William Jones of Clarke County to Joseph Jones of Columbia County.

Children of Joseph Jones and his wife Mary Bayliss:

- i. STEPHEN BAYLISS JONES, b. 1800 in North Carolina; m. a widow whose maiden name was CLARA OLIVER. They had no children but reared two adopted daughters, one of whom was Olivia Kate Wallace; the other, Lucy Taliaferro Oliver, niece of Clara Oliver Jones, m. 3. Ford McRee, clergyman in M. E. Church. Issue.
4. Mary Jane McRee m. (2nd w.) Dr. Thomas Hutcheson of Oglethorpe County, Ga. No issue.

3. WILLIAM JONES-2 (Stephen Jones-1), according to White's Historical Collections, was one of the first settlers of Clarke County, Ga., his home plantation now being in Oconee County which was cut off from Clarke. He was born in Virginia—supposedly Halifax County—13 Dec. 1777. In his early manhood, probably about 1798, he went to Georgia and first made his home in Columbia County where his brother Joseph also settled for a few years. On 14 Mar. 1800, he was married to MARY, the widow of Merryman Thorn, a probable native of North Carolina, who lived in Columbia County for some time before his death in 1798 (See "The Widow Thorn"). She was the mother of two daughters and a son by her first marriage and was reputed to be "a woman of great beauty and of lovely Christian character." Her tombstone, erected shortly after her death, shows her birth to have been 4 Mar. 1768; and her death, 22 Aug. 1843.

William Jones, his wife, and their first child moved to Clarke County from Columbia County either late in 1803 or early in 1804, his home being in Scull Shoals District, a few miles from the county-seat, Watkinsville. He was very successful in his farming operations, acquiring a large estate as is shown in his will recorded after his death 10 Dec. 1847, his wife having died four years previously.

Both are buried in Watkinsville, their graves having been marked over a century ago with the then fashionable table-like structures of marble resting upon a marble base. These were shattered by a falling tree some years ago, but have been repaired. The legs were discarded and the shattered pieces of the top layer of marble carefully cemented together upon the lower layer, thus preserving the inscriptions.

William Jones and his wife were very active in the Methodist Church of their day. One of his executors, who was also a trustee for his orphan grand-children, was a preacher of that faith, the Rev. Joshua N. Glenn; while another was Greene B. Haygood, the father of the future Bishop Atticus G. Haygood and of Miss Laura Haygood, the famous missionary to China.

No better insight into the character of William Jones could be wished than that revealed in Item 10 of his lengthy will recorded, with two codicils, at the January term of Court in 1848 in Clarke County. It reads as follows:

"I solemnly enjoin upon all who receive my bounty as they regard my will and memory and wish to be esteemed worthy of my regard, to treat my servants with kindness and humanity, and by no means to neglect the wants and comforts of my old servants."

Children of William Jones and his wife Mrs. Mary Thorn:

- i. ROBERT ADAMS JONES, b. Columbia County, Ga., 22 Jan. 1801; d. Greenville, Meriwether County, Ga., 20 Mar. 1843; A.B., University of Ga.—Class of 1822. They lived on a plantation of 2,000 acres on Wild Cat and Rose Creeks in what now is Oconee County, Ga. As no children were born of this marriage, Alethea Jones Bailey took into her home her niece, Margaret Clara Pope Morton, who remained with them until the aunt's death which is said to have occurred July, 1857. She also reared Samuel W. Bailey, a young kinsman of her husband.

5. iii. CAROLINE MATILDA JONES, b. 22 July 1808.

4. WILEY ADAMS JONES-3 (2 Joseph Jones-2 ; Stephen Jones-1) was born 13 Aug. 1802, probably in Columbia County, Ga., after the removal of his parents from North Carolina. He died 16 April 1873 in Rehobothville, Morgan County, Ga. On 22 May 1833 he married in Clarke County, Ga., SARAH MATHEWS EDWARDS who was born 8 Dec. 1809 in Coffersville, Ala. The father of Wiley Adams Jones bought land in Clarke County in 1804, so it is probable that the family moved there shortly thereafter. The Census of 1850 shows Wiley Adams Jones, his wife and eight children to be living in Wild Cat District, Clarke County, Ga. A deed made by Samuel Bailey 14 Oct. 1862 describes the land involved as being "on Wild Cat Creek and adjoining that of W. A. Jones." So it seems that the removal of the family to Morgan County was after that date.

The last years of the life of Wiley Adams Jones were spent in Rehobothville where he was joined by two daughters, widowed by the war, and their five children whom he educated. (He had previously assisted his widowed sister Rebecca in the education of her children.) Greatly beloved, he died at the age of seventy and was buried in the yard of the little church at Rehobothville.

22 July 1808, died in Athens, Ga., 21 May 1851, and was buried in Oconee Hill Cemetery. She was married in 1826 to WILLIAM M. MORTON of Puryear's District, Clarke County, Ga. For several years they lived on a plantation given her by her father, but later moved to Athens where her children were reared and educated. Her husband was a prominent figure in Athens, serving several terms as Mayor; he was also a director of the Georgia Railroad and one of the first directors of the Southern Mutual Insurance Co. He was the grand-son of Joseph Morton of Orange County, Va., a soldier of the American Revolution, who moved to Oglethorpe County, Ga., about 1790. There he bought a large tract of land and lived in Lexington until his death in 1811.

Among the four sons of this Joseph Morton was Josiah Morton who settled in adjoining Clarke County, having married a Mrs. Gleason, who was born Judith Amanda Melvina Elizabeth Stone (1771-1849). They were the parents of four children, one of whom was William M. Morton.

A native of Bucks County, Pa., where he was born in 1820, Dr. Bonnell went in his young manhood to Georgia. After several years of ministerial work, "his almost matchless capacity as an educator and his wide and accurate scholarship called him into the school room."* He taught Greek at Emory College; later he was a professor at Wesleyan College, subsequently serving as president there from 1859 until his death in 1871. A tablet erected in the chapel at Wesleyan by "those alumnae who enjoyed the benefits of his pious example and noble instruction," describes him as "exalted in all that constitutes true manhood—a finished scholar, a peerless teacher, and a guileless Christian."

CHAPTER 17

"THE WIDOW THORN"

Of all the persons appearing in these pages, one of the most intriguing is the reputedly beautiful and pious widow, who on 14 March 1800 married William Jones (See Stephen Jones-3). Because all efforts in the past half-century have failed to discover her maiden name, she is known among her descendants as "the Widow Thorn."

1. The given name of this elusive lady was MARY; she was born 7 Mar. 1768 and died 22 Aug. 1843; but all knowledge of her early life and family is lacking. About 1784 she was married to MERRYMAN THORN, who was probably the person of that name who served as Lieutenant in a North Carolina company during the Revolution. He was a planter in Columbia County, Ga., before it was cut off from Richmond County in 1790, and continued to reside there until his death in 1798. In his community he appears to have been a person of some importance, his name occurring repeatedly in the records of that time. For several years he was elected Justice of the Peace. In his will he named his "beloved wife Mary," John E. Anderson, and Anderson Crawford, as his executors.

Two years after the death of Merryman Thorn, his widow married WILLIAM JONES of Columbia County. A few years later they moved to Clarke—now Oconee—County, Ga., where they spent the remainder of their lives. William Jones survived his wife four years, referring to her in his will as "my late beloved wife Mary."

To Mary ————— and her first husband Merryman Thorn were born:

2. i. ELIZABETH THORN, b. 1785.
- ii. SAMUEL THORN, b. ca. 1788; d. 1802.
3. iii. MARY THORN, b. 18 Aug. 1791.

To Mary ————— and her second husband William Jones were born:

- iv. ROBERT ADAMS JONES, b. 22 Jan. 1801; d. 20 Mar. 1843; m. 6 Oct. 1825 HARRIET HARTWELL MACON (1803-1850), dau. of Gideon Hunt Macon, Jr., and his 2nd wife Mary Hartwell. Six children. (See Stephen Jones-3 and Macon-46.)
 - v. ALETHEA A. JONES, b. ca. 1805; d. ca. 1857; m. 1st 1821 GEORGE W. LUMPKIN (d. 1830); m. 2nd 1831 COL. WILLIAM C. LYMAN; m. 3rd 1840 COL. SAMUEL BAILEY. No issue. (See Stephen Jones-3.)
 - vi. CAROLINE MATILDA JONES, b. 22 July 1808; d. 21 May 1851; m. 1826 WILLIAM M. MORTON, son of Josiah Morton and his wife Mrs. Judith Amanda Melvina Elizabeth (Stone) Gleason. Nine children. (See Stephen Jones-5 et seq.)
2. ELIZABETH THORN-2 (1 Mary ———-1) was born in 1785; she married 1st, 1 Jan. 1804 JOHN AUGUSTUS D'ANTIGNAC, oldest son of Louis Jean Baptiste Champeron D'Antignac (1748-1827), Major in the American Revolution, and his first wife; he died 27 September of the same year, his posthumous child surviving less than two years.

On 12 Feb. 1807 ELIZABETH THORN D.'ANTIGNAC married JURIAH HARRISS, who was born 17 July 1785 in Northumberland Co., Va. After his marriage he lived in Columbia County, where in 1830 he was ordained minister in the Baptist Church. From that time until his death he was prominent in religious affairs, holding the pastorate of famous old Kiokee Church for over thirty years. He amassed quite a fortune in land and other property which he willed to his wife and children upon his death, 23 Dec. 1868.
